B. R. COWEN, EDITOR & PROPRIETOR.]

"HE WHO LOVES NOT HIS COUNTRY CAN LOVE NOTHING."

ITERMS $1,50 A YEAR, IN AD VANCE

[WHOLE NO. 913.

NEW SERIES, VOL. VII. NO 18.1

few Doors West of Marietta Street.

It paid within three mouths.
If paid after that time, Paper a discontinued only at the option of while arrearages are due:

TERMS OF ADVERTISING. Each square, (11 lines or less,) three week, fivery additional insertion, Verry advertisements one column, full column.

usiter column. 15,00 references carde $3 per annum.

11 All letters addressed to the editor must be paid to in sure attention. [1]
If No paper discontinued until all arrearages are poid unless at the option of the editor. [1]

POETRY.

[Original.] The Memory of the Past.

BY LILY MAY. In a dim and quiet chamber, Where the light shone strangely through The closely curtained windows; There almost concealed from view, Sat a fair and youthful lady, Who wearied, and opprest, Had turned from the glaring sun-light,

To seek for a twilight rest. She had wandered through the wildwood, The paths where she oft had trod In bygone days, with the loved ones, Now resting beneath the sod; "Till grieved she had sought this chamber, In its cool recess to find. Rest for a wenried body Though not for a troubled mind.

The shadows around that chamber. Are gathering thick and fast, Near the spot where she sits silent 'Till o'er her their spell is cast, For by the unlooked for changes That over her features play. Those mournful glances will tell us. That her thoughts are far away.

For one moment joy, and gladness, Her trusting beart will beguite; A tranquil light, beams in her eye, And around her lips a smile; But the next, the changing shalow's Have awakened doubts and learer The smiles, from her lips have vanished, And her eyes are dimm'd with tears.

The past rives up before her, And a young and happy band, Are seeking with her for pleasures, Lured on by a brek'ning hand, One path that is straight and narrow, Loads on to the better way-But a thousand paths, diverging, Hath tempted them all astray.

So unminiful of the teachings, And kind admonitions sent; Each one a different pathway, With a willul spirit, went Too latestid they see their error, Hot not too late to retrace Their missing steps, so they hastened Back to the accustomed place.

But some will fall by the wayside Long long, ere their work be done. Such thoughts as these, o'er their teatures Eath n'gent'e sadness cas'; But few reach a quiet chamber, To weep o'er the misspent past. Pleasant Valley, Ohio, Feb. 1855.

To fulfil their highest duty.

MISCELLANEOUS.

[From the Michigan Temper inc. Advocate.] THE SOLDIER'S VOW.

One beautiful Indian summer day, in the autumn of 1844, a stranger appeared in the streets of Hanover, N. H., whose garb bespoke the utmost poverty and destitution .by a crowd of village boys, who amused sel that offered. and have followed the sea themselves by insulting him with coarse jests ever since. My fatal thirst has ever accomand personal indignities. He bore their panied and cursed me; in port and on dock abuse with exemplary patience, and begged them to wait till he felt a little better, and was thick with unnatural excess, and he was too weak to protect himself from the rude jostling of the crowd; yet he smiled on his tormentors, and exhibited ro other sense of his helpless condition than a look of grief and shame which, despite his efforts and smiles, would occasionally overspread his countenance. Late in the afternoon, the writer, then a student, passed him in company with a friend when our attention was arrested by a voice of unusual power and beauty singing that favorite national song of France, 'La Parisienne.' As he proceeded, a great number of students from the college guthered around him, and at the conclusion an involuntary expression of delight broke upon us from the entire mass. He was enthusiastically encored, and afterwards the Marsellaise was frequently called for. The same rich, clear voice rang out with wild melody in the very words which are wont to arouse the spirit of the French soldier to frenzy .-The admiration of the poor inebriate's auditory was now raised to the highest pitch .-Despite his tattered and filthy garments, his squalid beard and brimless hat, now that the fumes of liquor had subsided, his form appeared symmetrical and manly, and his face, glowing with the sentiment of the patriotic song and flushed with excit ment at the unexpected praise he was winning, assumed an expression of intelligence and joy that beautifully set off his really fine features. 'What and who is the stranger!' was the universal give you German, or Spanish, or Italian, as negative was vibrating his knuckles under that venerable State from the lack of good giant with stronger attractions and a might-well as Latin and Greek either, he added care—the President's nose, while the leader of the and true men, like himself, to defend the ier armor, lest he absorb and centralize with-lessly. In reply to many questions that affirmative was battering the Secretary's rights and maintain her honors on the floors in himself all that remains of the appropria poor vagabond entirely unworthy your kind las.

'His singing is incomparable, and his French and English are both faultless."

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY MORNING. riosity was too much excited to allow this, Office on North side of Main Street a and smid loud cheers we escorted him to a room where he was furnished with water and an entire good suit of clathes, the barber's dered for three days in the woods and by plabeginning of my woes. That angel of mercy, flisk a dendly foe, which was to prove more toils of the Egyptian campaign or the intolercannon at seventy battles, which kindled in forced open my veins on the desert sands of horrors of the Egyptian campaign. raised my head and wiped with her kerchief ed the cordial to my lips. It revived ma --- I looked around, my courage, my love of life remy spirits flagged I salled for more. I drank again and again -- for three weeks her love spothed me, and her kind hand administered to my wants. be lurking near, I bade her adieu, with many thanks and tears, sought the sca-side, and emburked as a common sailor on the first ves-I wandered on foot through Canada and New Hampshire, singing for pennics, or begging scenes of former years." The emotions of the stranger for a moment overcame his voice, when he resumed, the tears still coursing each other down his cheeks, I know not why God should direct my steps hither; but, gentlemen, this is the beginning of a new life to me, and here in His presence, and in that of these witnesses, swear as I hope to meet you in Heaven, never to taste another drop of alcohol in any Prolonged and deafening chaers followed these words, and I noticed many a moist eye. A collecti n was immediately made and more As he ascended the coach to take his departure, he turned to the excited multitude who tenant Lannes, a nechew of the great Mar- to any such agreement. shal Lannes. May God bless you all-fare-

'Yes,' said he, dropping his eyes, and, I can self!" When we left, the gentleman on the nor appear to spprehend the least danger to ted to clothe this overgrown and menacing six months." The audience roared and the number of children made Fatheriess, and a were showered upon him with the soin he so crupper-bone with a copper candlestick and of Congress; and, sure I am, in that part of ate authority and influence of the States, and Tribune gives the following as the circula- poor Jones. the Liquor seiler, smacks his the Cutholic world." much seemed to need, he at length said in a junk bottle. The decision will be annount the country in which I am acquainted, there accomplish the fell purpose which, in his tion of the leading London papers: The Tim lips-pockets his quarters, and looks out for and tene, and slowly endeavoring to push his ced in an extra provided the pelice don't anway through the crowd. 'Gentlemen, I am ticipate it by an intrusive visit,—N. Y. Atsuaded to serve their dear country in this and "crush out the spirit of liberty" from the News 4,436, Morning Herald 3, 859, Morn.

WORK. Speech of Senator Gillette, of Conn.

would have better pay, let them earn it fairly bundred to four hundred per cent greater than for bread, till I met your sympathy to day.— and honcestly, by doing better work. Espethat of our State Legislators and Judges.— Come for Feloss.—Boil up in any iron timed after he had closed.

But it would really seem, Sir, if a State legisvessel of sufficient capacity (say four or six holding sovereignty. What foundation can these suppositions, sure I am, Sir, the direct receipt has been abundantly verified here. Congressmen have of an equitable claim for and ultimate tendency of this measure would Lyonsdale, N. Y. eight dollars a day even, during the first month be to clothe this Government with additional of each session, spent, as it uniformly is, not consequence in the eyes of the country, and than fifty dellars were put into his hands - so much in the service of the country as in proportionally to belittle and dispurage the

OF The Ticklerib Debating Society, at gressional servants at the present price of and is quick to seize upon any semblance of as Gnathrain. "Why!" "Because the pubstagered for a considerable distance before the subject of annexation. It is even said Green Point, is now discussing the following their service. The trouble rather is in mahomely woman, to become good looking, or pirants. Even the honorable Senator himto see her dear, beautiful friend, Maria Jane ate, and that no farther efforts will be made to submission to its command to outrage and dragoon them inbut he didn't. Guess again!" "Lots of lafond of indulging in strong drinks.

to procure the possession of Cuba. This is to submission to its imperious will. Far, far dies' bonnets." "And why!" "Because I Here we see the effects of Liquor traffic. catch the small-pox and grew uglv like her- any such embarrassment in North Carolina, be it from me, Sir, to do anything calcula- have not seen a bonnet on a lady's head for A wife has been robbed of her husband—a queer, but such are the signs.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, OHIO, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1855. THE BELMONT CHRONICLE. sympathy. Leave me to my regs & wreich- MUCH MONEY FOR LITTLE can be no doubt on this point—every Sens. reasons for the vote which I shall give on the boundary of the ving parriots enough in all States and Territories who, if unable exactly to agree with the old Latin poet in the sentiment, Duice et decorum pro patria mori-it is pleasant Charleston Mercury writes as follows:

an entire good sun of clathes, the barber's at war put in requisition, and after an interesting and barber's at war put in requisition, and after an interesting and barber's at war put in requisition, and after an interesting and barber's at war put in requisition, and after an interesting and barber's at war put in requisition, and after an interesting and barber's at war put in requisition, and after an interesting and barber's at war put in requisition, and after an interesting and barber's at war put in the sentinent, building and barber's and honorable to de for one's country—and there are the saight change of a single word, as in the sentinent, building and barber's and honorable to de for one's country—are very willing to adopt the sentinent, building and honorable to de for one's country—are very willing to adopt the sentinent, building and honorable to de for one's country—are very willing to adopt the sentinent, building and honorable to de for one's country—are very willing to adopt the sentinent, building and honorable to de for one's country—are very willing to adopt the sentinent, building and honorable to de for one's country—are very willing to adopt the sentinent, building and honorable to de for one's country—are very willing to adopt the sentinent, building and honorable to de for one's country—are very willing to adopt the sentinent, building and honorable to de for one's country—are very willing to adopt the sentinent, building and honorable to de for one's country—are very willing to adopt the sentinent, building and honorable to de for one's country—are very willing to adopt the sentinent and honorable to de for one's country—are very and we sert the following and honorable to de for one the claims and honorable to five for one's country—are very deviced to the following the definence of the following the definence of the following the service of the following ticket Rev. John the following ticket joined the fortunes of Napoleon, and with the credithim a large measure of patriotism in rarements, should pay their Congressional rank of Lieutenant, was with him during all the direction of public expenditure-his car- servant-fifty per centum more than they now his campaigns in Egypt, in Italy, in Austria, in Russia and at Waterloo. He had been the disbursements the more public prosperity aspirants are already so plentiful and persiaengaged in more than seventy battles, and -I must dissent from the proposition new tent as to be about as clamorous and annov-Lis description of places and cities were ex. before us. To increase the pay of Congress- ing as the bawling backmen that infest our pressed in choice and graphic terms, and on being compared with history, were found to correspond in every particular. He related which thresten its existence. If the pression of the weapons in their hands."

men, would, in my opinion increase the distance of the dangers only patronize their coaches, they will be very particular. He related which thresten its existence. If the pression of the weapons in their hands." correspond in every particular. He related which threaten its existence. If the pres-ry well satisfied with forty cents a mile for many unwritten and curious incidents in the ent compensation were really inadequate to travel and eight dollars a day for service .-life of Napoleon, which had come under his the value of the services rendered; if the na. Shall we offer them more, and thus multiply observation, and finally closed with a touch- tion were actually receiving more than an the number and intensify their avidity! I ing account of his own career after the battle equivalent for what it pays its Congression- have another objection to this bill, which to of Waterioo, in the terrible rout that follow. "I servants-then, Sir, the proposition would me, is insurmountable. It ignores the cross ed that memorable event. His detachment was chased by a body of Prussian hussars, the proposition would straig in the present mileage of members of Can are not seen in the crowd, nor about the free fears and perpetual cares, which wear out and becoming scattered in the night he wan- vine declaration that the "laborer is worthy gress, and admitted by every man whom I soup bowls provided by Steward and other the lives of at least one half our professional of his reward"-that is to say, if he earns have ever heard express his views on the sub- benevolent persons who daily feed the starves without food or drink.

it, and do not approve, any more than the ject, except the Senator who introduced this ing.

The chase being at length given over, the hunorable Senator from North Carolina, of bill. He said, if I recollect aright, that it is A German desperado harangued one of The fa The chase being at lergth given ever, the bullous Senator from North Carolina, of one in the least lead of the later and irrefrievable error of parties of the later and sick one man or set of men, living on the unre-just, entirely just, as it is. Let us see how these gatherings and proclaimed that two rents lies in their entertaining the notion of the later and irrefrievable error of parties and sick one man or set of men, living on the unre-just, entirely just, as it is. with his wounds, and ready to die by the road. Quited, coerced labor of another man, or set it operates. Those Congressmen from the hundred thousand German bayonets are ready side. A humane Dutch girl, discovering I im of men. Such are not my ideas of justice or remote parts of the country actually receive to enforce this demand.

In this situation, brought him refreshments of honor. Again-t such wrong doing, such some thousands of dollars more than members. No evil is much to be feared at this day, as and circlials and among the latter a flask of extortion, such consummate injustice, the living near, and that merely for a few days the flood of foreign paupers cast upon our brandy. Here, said the ele soldier, was the impartial Father of men has published his ab- extra travel in the public service. For ex- shores merely to be the miserable tools of a horrence in threatened woes, from which I ample, the Senstor living in the remotest lawless and desperate class who live and with the best of motives, brought me in that am as anxious to escape as that Senator can part of the most distant State receives as move only in the atmosphere of turbulence, be, The only true and safe rule is, do just- mileage for one session of Congress $5,482, riot and burning. potent for evil to me than all the burning ly, and "render to all their dues." This is 40, while the nearest Senator receives but All entirens must join in the work of selfthe proper principle on which to determine $33,50. Now, it is well understood that the defence against these foreign tools who know at le frosts of Russia: more fatal than the this question, as Lthink, and not as the Sen- actual expense of the journey in each case is no liberty save freedom from all restraint, and the dignity of labor will be universally recogator insisted the other day, the cost of liv- but a pittance of the sum- received so that no power but brute violence. me a thirst more insatiable than that which ing here in Washington, which is more or the most distant member receives one hunless according to individual habits, tastes dred and sixty-three times more as mileage the East. Till that day, I had never tasted and preferences, the mode of living the quant than the nearest member, and all for a few strong drink. I had uttered a vow in my tity and quality of wine and stronger li- days, perhaps weeks, of extra travel. The

An intelligent correspondent of the Bosstrong drink. I had uttered a vow in my youth to abstain from it, and to that vow, I quors which may be thought by some to stiowed my life; for not one of all my comrades mulate their patriotism, and other vulgar and diate distances. Thus, by this exorbitant trade and the benefits that would accrue who indulged in the use of it survived the pernicious indulgences of depraved and grov- mileage, established at a time when the ac- from a Protective Tariff, says: eling appetites. The truth is, a man may tual expenses of travelling were very great, We might by an efficient protective poli-But as I lay in anguish looking for death spend more or less here, as elsewhere, just as compared with the prosent reduced rates, cy, add at least 50,000,000 per annum to the will become independent and useful cit zens and mementarily expecting his approach, a sweet face appeared to me wearing an exin this direction. When we consider the ent Congress $451,662,82, the benefits of we do, $25,000,000. A difference of $75,pression of deep pity and sympathy for my matter of compensation for serv ces render- which accrued to the members according to 900,000 could easily be effected and our meed, the amount actually earned is the main their respective distance from the seat of ney kept at home. We should be immense inquiring, whatever she gave. She gently subject for consideration, and this should de- Government. Now, Sir, if this is justice, gainers if we could keep out everything that termine this question; for I maintain that what is injustice! The rotten borrough sys- we can make, and we might then admit tea, schools, of the average age of seven years, the dampness from my brow, and administerd Congressmen, like their constituents, should tem of Great Britain, of which we heard so coffee, wines, &c., free of duty. Suppose had, in their play of bat and batt, broken "eat their bread in the sweat of their brow," much a few years since, hardly paralleled the that then our revenues would fall short, we one of the neighbor's windows; but no cice in obedience to the "higher law," or do with- rotten mileage system of the United States, could well afford direct truation, and much of the offender could be obtained, as he out eating, if they will not resign and give Had there been coupled with the proposition better afford to raise double the present rev. would not confess, nor would any of his asning words, and alled down the blessings of Heaven upon nor. Ignorant of what it was that had so suddenly inspired me, as soon as say, I think they are; the people hardly re- tively unobjectionable. Had the distinguish- nue from those articles and others that we do school, she privately rud bri-fly stated the ceive, in return, their money's worth. Mr. ed Senator, with the advantages of his emi-President, I take no pleasure in saying it, nent abilities and ripe experience in the pubbut I have sometimes thought that the peo- lic councils, instead of bringing forward this a certain amount of humbug, and rather pre- ple involved in the case. ple are afflicted with a large number of un-proposition for the benefit of Congressmen for it in some cuses, though half conscions | The address to the school had reference, covered, fearing that some enemy might still profitable servanta -- present company ex- undertaken to devise some plan for the alle- of it, we should have adopted such a policy principally, to the conduct of boys in the cepted, of course, Sir-who, should they es viation of the country from its financial dif- long ago, and not waited till we were owing streets and in their sports. The principles ha, at Towards, Pa., on the 27th of Januacape that "outer darkness" which awaits in- floulties, and brought in a bill to help the some $200,000,000 to Great Britain, or until of rectifude and kindaess which a ould gov- ry. corrigible transgressors, will owe their de- pockets of the poorle instead of those of Con- a general crash among ourselves should open ern them everywhere—even when alone and liverance, not to any salvation obtainable gressmen, it would have evinced a patriot- our eyes to the suicidal policy of free trade, when they thought no eye could see, and from such acts as the atrocicus Fugitive act ism and fidelity worthy of its distinguished To us that policy has always been, and al- there was no one present to observe. The of the Thirty-First Congress, or the perfidisource, and won the favorable consideration ways will be suicidal, because all the benes school seemed deeply interested in the rethis foe has debased me, and kept me from all our Nebraska-Kansas act of the Thirty-Third of all who are truly concerned for the public fit accrues to the manufacturing party, which marks. The people, in some quarters, have concluded interests. But the people are little thought is Great Britain. One leg wears the boot, A very short time after the visitor le t the in the depth of my heart wished I had died that such services are quite too dear at eight of, except in the matter of their votes, while and the other goes barefoot. That is pre- school, a little boy arese in his seat, and a farm at Great Burlington. Berkshire dollars a day, and do not care to have any their servants are occupied with schemes to cisely the operation of free trade between us said: "Miss L----, I batted the bull that county, Massachusetts, and has built a barn weeks ago, I was wrecked on the packet the bolt of doom which has fallen upon so their pockets. The compensation of Con- professed so much jealousy, and declared our threw the ball, but I batted it and struck the most complete structure of the kind in the world.

Ship Clyde, on the coast of New Brunswick. many of their unfaithful servants, and which gressmen and of the Judges of the Supreme independence, and to which we are now baoverhangs so many more. If Congressmen Court of the United States is now from one coming a tributary, and dependent debter.

of students recall to my reco'lection the preferring such a claim-so soon after the later can live on from $2 to $4 a day, that quarts,) enough yellow dock root to make a audacious and execrable attempt "to crush a Congressman might possibly subsist on $8 strong liquor, when sufficiently boiled, and out the spirit of liberty" from the hearts of a day, with his exhorbitant mileage, and some while the liquor is as has as can be borne by the people, and the sublime and heautiful il- ten or twelve hundred dollars as the value the hand, cover the kettle with finnel cloth lustration of "popular sovereignty" in the re- of Congressional books received for his pri- to keep in the heat and steam, and hold the part!" cent election in Kansas, where, as we are in- vate library, to cke out his expenses; and if hand or finger affected under the cloth and formed by the Governor of that Territory, and a State Judge can buffle famine with the ma- in the steam, and in five minutes the pain others, popular sovereignty had to run away terial aid of $2,000 or $2,500 a year, a Uni- will cease. It it should return after a time, from his own ballot boxes, in order to save ted States Judge might possibly keep the heat up the same liquor and do as before. In his democratic Highness from the b'udgeons, wolf from the door with the help of $4,000 a cure performed in this way, the joints of teacher's heart was touched, and she felt bewie-knives and pistels of an irruptive slave- or $4,500 a year. But if I am mistaken in the fingers will always be preserved. This more than ever the responsibility of her

A. M. C.

suaded to serve their dear country in this and "crush out the spirit of liberty" from the News 4,436, Morning Herald 3, 859, Morning Capitol for the present compensation. There hearts of the people. Such are, briefly, my ing Post 2,610, Morning Chronicle 2,435.

"Too Smart for a Mechanic."

General Scott on the Eastern War. | ruffering and loss to the community, than The Washington correspondent of the the one that leads this article. Every day through unity of design. The inference I mun. Such an education is all right and would draw from Gen. Scott's ideas is, that proper-is such a one as every child is legit- II, will appoint John S. Wells Senator, to Sebastopol will not be taken; for I doubt imately entitled to But we do object to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of whether the ailies can throw such a prepon. every man whose feelish parents and friends, Mr. Norris. derance of force there as is necessary. The together with his own sell-conceit, induce to General further said, that the allies could not believe he is too smart to labor as he father station in life, it he can command the time "We Wast Bread, and Will Have Its" and means, but above all and beyond all, let This tooks like an early resomption of busihim be educated and qualified for an intill. need. That is the significant and threatening gent mechanic. He will then, under all or- Cunard stermer Asia, on her last motto upon one of the banners paraded in dinery circumstances, he able at any time to departure for Europe, did not take out any New York by the army of foreign paupers obtain a decent livelihood with his own specie.

dren that labor is disgraceful and benesth day morning. the dignity of men of genius, and till the pernicious idea is wholly eradicated, its effects will be visited upon the heads of the individual offenders, and felt throughout the community. We think our people are beginning to have rather juster views than heretofore of what constitutes true gentility. and look forward hope ully to the day when nised-when all useful employments will be considered highly honorable-and when no one shall be thought too smart for a mechan-When that period arrives, agriculture and the mechanic arts will flourish to an unsends who are languishing in poverty, or wallowing in profligacy, merely because Cecil Whig.

[Cleveland Herald.

What a Protective Tariff would do.

The Sense of Justice.

whole for the glass," said another boy rising from his seat; 'all of us that were play. The "American Organ" at Washington

A thrill of pleasure seemed to run thro' the school at this display of correct feeling. The

About ten days since, an o'd man name! THEATRICAL WIT .- In "Black-Eyed Su- Jones, was frozen to death, in Wayne townholiday festivities and amusements? Little. State Government; to rear a towering giant an," Wood, of the Boston Theatre gets off ship, in this county. He had purchased a 67 The Dayton Journal says the most of indeed, earned during one-third of this sessible, and make abject dwarfs there. I look the following:—William is telling a sailor's jug of Whiskey, it is supposed in Dandee, the drinking houses of that city have ceased sion, and twelve dollars a day this bill pro- with no complacency upon the aggrandize- yarn to the landsman, and in the course of and started for home. As he did not arrive seiling liquor. The Police are on the siert that you should know my name. I am Lieu- poses to pay for that. I will not be a party ment of the Federal Government, but with it, is describing the capture of a shark which in the evening, his family became alarmed, to bring to justice all who will violate the dread and dismay. Its powers and influence had been hanging round the fleet for some and the next day the whole neighborhood law. Moreover, Mr. President, I do not under-are already fearfully great, and should be di-stand, from any quarter, that the people now minished rather than increased. Its Execu-"What do you think we found in him!" in a field—his jug a short distance from him. find the least difficulty in obtaining Con- tive branch is already well nigh absolute, says William. "Barnum's Life," says Wood and it was evident from his tracks, that he tion has determined to change its policy en king a selection among the multitude of as- the State, by ordering the militry force at "Well," says William, 'perhaps he might, mer-his great fault was, that he was too human being cont unprepared, into the press save: ence of an effended God. While all this O'Useful labor in truly dignified.

There is not, perhaps, a more mischievens phones and one productive of more individual

The fatal and irretrievable error of pa-school as the boy was speaking, and it con-"But it wont be right for---- to pay

Effects of Whiskey.

ITEMS OF

Gorit is stated that Governor Baker, of N.

Page & Bacon of St. Louis announces

63 A writer in the Edinburgh Review estimates that the laborers of England sions ale, and telacco. This is a large sum, but the authority is first rate.

and instilling into the minds of their chil. Dr. S. P. Tonnsend, were burnt on Thurs-

We understand that the preprietors of our principlal hotels as well as those of other places where liquor has formerly been sold, concluded yesterday to close up their bars and conform to the law. This, in the long run, will doubtless be the best course. Zanesville Cour.

O'The women at Mt. Pleasant, Hamen county, after due notice, attacked a doggery, and destroyed a large amount of liquor belonging to the owner. They then seized him, and dragged him through the liquor as it was running over the floor. Warrants the latest accounts, they had not been arres-

Of it is said that a new Pacific R.R comany has been organized at New-Orleans, with Robert J. Walker at its head. A deposit of $300,000 in specie is to be made with the Texan Government, and, by this, if hoped that their donation of land for the Pacific road will be secured.

The lust conundram reads as follows: What is the most difficult operation in surforlion. John Slidell received 23 majority for Senator from Louisiana.

the city of New Orleans, claiming fifty thouand dollars for professional services in the Gaines case, the Jury were unable to agree. The long bridge over the Susquehan-OFM srs Aspinwall of New York, and Corning, of Albany, have agreed to tunnel the Housick mountain for $3.500,000. They take $1.000.000 of stock in the concern.

for six years in next Tuesday. There is no doubt of the election of Mr. Seward.

ing should pay something, because we were cit,' a ye that two-thirds of the members of all engaged alike in the play; I'll pay my the Know Nothing ledges of Baltimore are Democrats. It also asserts that manyprominent Democrate at Washington, are member of the order, Colonel Bonton, in speaking of Congressional matters, says he never "paired off" but once in his life and that was with a young woman the night he got married. for The Pittsburgh Journal states that 1050 tons of iron and nails were shipped from that port for St. Louis alone, on four bests,

ate, and that no farther efforts will be made

Religious liberty is only endured till the CTA correspondent of the New York desolution has been caused in the family of opposite can be established with safety to

The Bishop of St. Louis declares: "America will soon be Catholic, and then religious liberty will cease to ex-